

Economics of Inventory and Production

Session organizer: Felipe Schwarzman

There has been much interest among economists on understanding how various shocks propagate through supply chains, and the potential for those to amplify the effects of shocks. The session aims to bring together economists working on this and related topics within the context of the International Society for Inventory Research symposium.

If you are interested in joining these sessions, then please do the following.

- You submit your abstract via the web site for the ISIR conference:
<http://www.isirsymposium>

When you submit you can denote that you want to join the sessions on Economics of Supply Chain.

If you are not sure whether your topic fits, then please send Felipe Schwarzman an abstract based on which the session organizers can form an opinion.

Abstract submission deadline: 31 March 2020

Contact details of the session organizers:

Felipe Schwarzman, fschwart@gmail.com
Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, USA